Ivermectin proven successful treatment of Covid 19

August 16, 2021

In 1918 the world endured 50 million deaths as a result of influenza.

The flu remains with us today.

In 2017 modern Australia lost 1255 lives to influenza.

No lockdowns of any kind.

After nearly two years of Covid-19 in Australia 947 have died.

Severe lockdowns, mandatory vaccination, vaccine passports and dangerous legislation.

Recently I submitted a Question on Notice to the Health Minister on whether he would consider a trial of Ivermectin for Covid-19 treatment, he responded as follows:

“Current available evidence shows that the Ivermectin dose required to inhibit the COVID-19 virus is unlikely to be achievable in humans. However clinical trials of Ivermectin against COVID-19 are ongoing, and reassessment will occur as efficacy and safety data becomes available.”

I thank the Minister for his response and will be returning to this matter. However, the statement from the Health Minister is misleading or at least only half true.

Clinical trials have been performed and show promising data for those infected with Covid-19.

Ivermectin has been available to Australians for over six decades and is still used today to treat parasitic infections. Data from clinical trials has shown outstanding results in treating and subduing Covid-19 symptoms. Ivermectin won a Nobel Peace prize in 2015. Ivermectin is also on the WHO list of essential medicines.

Why then are we not treating Covid patients with this proven medication?

The State and Federal Government is entirely focused on preventative measures with Covid-19 vaccines rather than on treatment measures such as Ivermectin. We do note that the TGA has only awarded these vaccines provisional approval at this point in time. Unfortunately, these experimental vaccines have not proven entirely successful and 'break-through' cases are occurring right around the world. Most concerning is the unusually high degree of adverse reactions and deaths. As of August 8, 2021 there have been 48,143 adverse reactions, 7 confirmed deaths due to vaccination and 447 reports of death following vaccination.

With numerous trials of Ivermectin, this safe treatment has not been given provisional approval for Covid-19 treatment, despite hundreds of medical papers and successful widespread use overseas. Some 3.7 billion doses of Ivermectin have been administered since the 1970s and it is prescribed for many ailments. Ivermectin is safe and affordable because it is off-patent.

Considering all these promising signs in treating and subduing Covid-19 symptoms, I call on the Government for immediate Ivermectin treatment to be made available to those infected with Covid-19. Additionally, permission must be granted to medical practitioners to treat Covid-19 infected with Ivermectin.

Australians have everything to gain and nothing to lose from this successful treatment.

Yours faithfully,
